If the truth were known, Roosevelt is banking more on Cortelyou than he is on his spellbinders.

A cablegram from St. Petersburg says: "Gen. Kuropatkin is confident." Same thing with us Parker men.

Some papers are lamenting the apathy of the voters during the campaign. 'Taint apathy. It is settled conviction that Roosevelt must take his clothes and go.

A New Jersey postmaster laments that when thieves broke into the office they stole his umbrella. He needn't worry. President Parker will pick a dry day when he turns him out of office.

Some time since a Big Injun out West sent Roosevelt a necklace of bear claws. There isn't enough of them, however, to enable him to scratch out from under the Parker landslide on the 8th of November.

Ever since those Panama revolutionists "rose up as one man," we have been wondering why the United forces which landed didn't give them a chance to have more than a one night stand for their money.

If the Hon. Henry G. Davis can handle a whilwind campaign over a 1,300 mile course, like he did in West Virginia, Republicans would take to the low grounds if he should go after them with a tornado.

A Philadelphian is suing for a divorce from his wife because she cooks the biscuit so hard that he broke off a front tooth. Her lawyers may as well tell her that she will run up against a snag if she attempts to put up any defence.

"Is fiction declining?" asks a magazine. No, it is simply reclining on the heaving bosom of the Republicans who are using it to make the country believe that Roosevelt's corporosity is going to encumber the Presidential chain four years more.

Jacob Riis, one of Roosevelt's bootlicks, says in his biography of the President that he is "the many-sided man." Jakey meant to be complimentary, of course, but DeWitt Warner, another writer, looked at Roosevelt the same way when he wrote: "You can quote Roosevelt on every side of every political question that has arisen in this country since he was five years old."

For terseness, we are committed to Grover Cleveland. Littauer, the New York Republican congressman, when prosecuted by the government in the glove case, pleaded the statute of limitations. Mr. Cleveland, in writing to Littauer's Democratic opponent, says: "The statute of limitations never runs against political dishonesty or the betrayal of a public trust when the offender, to secure a vindication, offers himself for the suffrages of the people."

LOCAL DOTS.

— The Piano Club will meet Tuesday night in the parlors of the Elks' Temple.

— The Teachers' Association will meet next Saturday at 10 o'clock in the Cape Fear Academy building.

— A young colored man of good character may secure permanent employment at the STAR office by making immediate application.

— Concord Chapter No. 1, R. A. M., will hold a special convocation Monday evening at 8 o'clock to confer the Mark Master's degree.

— The South Carolina Secretary of State yesterday commissioned the Merchants' and Farmers' Bank of Mullins. The capital stock is placed at $35,000 and J. S. Cooper, L. J. Cooper and others are interested.

— The STAR regrets to inform its numerous subscribers who are writing us daily about silver dollars of 1884 that it was a silver dollar of 1904 that sold for $1,100. The STAR was led into the error as to date by one of its exchanges.

— Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Field, No. 915 South Second street, have the sympathy of friends in the death of their infant son, Francis Foster, aged nine months. The funeral was held at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, with interment in Bellevue.

— A special schedule will be in effect on the suburban trolley line today. Cars will be operated every hour from 9 A. M. to 6 P. M. and if the weather is favorable extra cars will be run at 2:30, 3:30, 4:30 and 5:30 P. M., which will be equivalent to a half hour schedule from 2 to 6 P. M.

— The steamer "Mayflower," Captain Ellis Sherman, master, and Wiley Mazingo, fireman, returned last night with Mr. J. W. Dennis and party of friends who enjoyed a few days of fine hunting at Maultsby's Point, on Black River. They brought back a quantity of game.

— Last night at 8 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. B. F. Reaves, Eighth and Dawson streets, Justice G. W. Bornemann, in his characteristic happy manner, joined in wedlock Miss Mary Owens and Mr. James Rackley, both of Delgado Mills. The groom is a native of Sampson county and formerly resided at Turkey, N. C. Both received the happiest congratulations of friends upon their marriage.

Instruction in Nursing.

Miss Lawranson, a graduate of the Washington Training School, Washington City, has been engaged by the Chapel of the Good Shepherd as an instructive visiting nurse. Her duties are to give instructions in nursing the sick who do not wish to go to the hospitals. This is the first work of this kind that has ever been attempted here. She has been in the city but two weeks, and the physicians speak in the highest terms of her capability. Her visits are not confined to members of the Chapel, but she will respond to any physician's call when request is made through the Chapel. No charge is made for these visits. Miss Lawranson is prepared to answer any questions regarding the ventilation of the sick room, the preparing of food and the administering of medicines.

Exchange of Clerks.

Beginning to-day and until further arrangements, two of Wilmington's popular postoffice clerks will exchange "tricks," as the telegraphers say, Mr. Wm. D. Lumlin, who has been night clerk and who has been conscientious and faithful, obliging and courteous to everybody, at the same time strictly adhering to the rules of the Department, will become day clerk and Mr. J. M. Taylor, another equally efficient and capable "servant of Uncle Sam," will become night clerk. The STAR has occasion to observe and know that both these clerks are among the best in the service and hopes the exchange will be mutually beneficial and pleasant.

Speaking Postponed.

Owing to his indisposition and pressing engagements in the country districts, Hon. H. L. Godwin has changed the date of his appointment to speak in Wilmington from next Tuesday night, Oct. 25th, to the evening of Nov. 4th. Mr. Godwin is a fluent and convincing speaker, and a large gathering of New Hanover's "Democracy militant" should hear him.

YOUNG TAKES APPEAL

Judge Moore in Superior Court Imposes Heavy Penalty in Both Cases.

DAMAGE SUIT ON TRIAL.

Graham Murray vs. City of Wilmington Being Heard Yesterday—Negro Sentenced to One Year Under Conviction at Last Term.

In the Superior Court yesterday morning, before taking up any other matter, Judge Moore rendered his decision in the contempt rule against P. W. Young, finding the defendant guilty and imposing a penalty of $50 and costs. Judge Moore also imposed a sentence of 30 days upon the same defendant in the case of assault and battery in which Young was found guilty earlier in the week. The circumstances surrounding both cases are already too familiar to the public. From the judgment of the court in each case defendant's counsel took an appeal to the Supreme Court and gave bond for his appearance at the April, 1905, term of the lower court by which time the questions will have been finally passed upon. Judge Moore in announcing his decision in the cases yesterday said that he had thoroughly examined the authorities cited by both sides and was of the opinion that the defendant is guilty. He then dictated the following entry for the Clerk's docket:

"State vs. Paul W. Young, A. & B. Appeal from Mayor. It is adjudged that that the defendant, Paul W. Young be imprisoned in the common jail of New Hanover county for the term of 30 days and that he be assigned to the Commissioners of said county to be worked on the public roads of said county, according to law during the term of his imprisonment. Motion by defendant for new trial on account of errors alleged to have occurred during the trial and to be assigned in statement of case on appeal. Motion denied and defendant excepts and in open court appeals to the Supreme Court. Notice of appeal waived. Undertaking on appeal fixed at $35. Undertaking for appearance of defendant at the next April term fixed at $250. This amount is deposited in money in lieu of bond. By consent 30 days allowed for statement of case on appeal and Solicitor allowed 30 days thereafter to file counter statement of case on appeal."

In the contempt rule the entry is merely made that the defendant is attached for contempt and fined $50, whereupon an appeal is taken, the bond, etc, being covered in the other case. Col. Waddell and Herbert McClammy, Esqs., counsel for the defendant, appeal to the Supreme Court in the contempt rule on the ground that their client is not guilty, because the common law that would have possibly sustained the prosecution has been repealed by statute, and there being no statutory grounds in cases of this particular kind, the defendant is not a subject of contempt. (3) Even though he were guilty of contempt, this kind of contempt would have been applicable to civil cases and not to criminal cases, another reason being that the defendant purged himself of contempt by his affidavit and he is the sole trier of what was in his mind as to the matter.

In the appeal in the assault and battery case, defendant's counsel contend that there is no express authority under the statute giving the Superior Court the power to put a defendant on the roads for simple assault, but that the statute under the New Hanover Road Law gives the court the authority to put a defendant in jail and authorizes the Board of County Commissioners to work him on the roads, provided, the Board of County Commissioners makes application to the court for persons convicted for the purpose of using them on the road, and their being no express application at this or previous terms, the judgment in that event would be void. Defendant's counsel also took an appeal upon the exceptions during the trial as to the admissibility of certain evidence and also upon the exception as to the qualification of a juror.

The cases raise some fine and far-reaching points of law that both sides are anxious to have passed upon by the Supreme Court.

Routine Proceedings.

Court met as usual at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning and the sheriff returned the talesmen ordered summoned for the day with the exception of B. B. Humphrey, T. M. Turrentine, J. H. Hancock, Chas. H. Schulken, Wm. T. Shepard, Wm. G. Hill, S. A. Rogers and J. K. Westbrook, who were not found. Messrs. A. B. Guyton, J. H. Burriss and Eugene Poezolt were excused by the court.

Jackson Brown, the negro found not guilty of perjury after court took a recess Friday, but who had been found guilty of an assault with a deadly weapon at the last term of court, judgment having been reserved pending trial of the perjury case, was sentenced by Judge Moore yesterday to one year on the roads.

Civil Docket Reached.

The civil docket having been reached, the following cases were continued by consent: John Brown vs. Mrs. Elizabeth Vollers; Murchison National Bank vs. Dunn Oil Mills Co., C. T. Pope et al., A. E. Alderman et al., W. F. Pearson et al., and A. H. Slocomb vs. C. C. R. R. Co.

Counsel for plaintiff were fully confident of an immediate trial of the Mortie L. Creech suit for damages against the Wilmington Cotton Mills, but upon the arrival from Raleigh of Iredell Meares, Esq., leading counsel for the defendant, a motion was lodged for a continuation and same was granted upon affidavit of Mr. Meares that one of his most important witnesses, Superintendent C. M. Cooke, Jr., was absent. Mr. Cooke arrived in the city during the early afternoon, but the case had been continued in the meantime.

The Creech suit having been continued, that of Graham Murray, by his next friend and father, R. M. Murray, against the City of Wilmington and Dr. C. T. Harper, city superintendent of health, was called. The case is one in which the plaintiff asks $5,000 damages for his alleged wrongful removal and quarantine by the superintendent of health, the child's health having been permanently injured by the said wrongful removal. The alleged wrongful act on the part of the city health department occurred when the boy was only six years old, on or about July 8th, 1901, while he was suffering with diphtheria. The plaintiff is represented by ex-Judge E. K. Bryan and L. V. Grady, Esq., while City Attorney Wm. J. Bellamy appears for both defendants and Herbert McClammy, Esq., appears for Dr. Harper. At the outset yesterday City Attorney Bellamy lodged a motion to dismiss on the ground that the city is not liable for the acts of its officers or agents when exercising governmental functions, relying upon the Supreme Court decision in the case of McIlhenny vs. City of Wilmington, which went up from this county in 1899. Judge Moore said he would reserve his decision upon the motion until after the plaintiff had introduced his testimony.

The trial was then entered upon, the following jury having been empanelled: J. W. M. Ahrens, E. H. Bowdoin, Daniel H. Penton, C. M. Murrin, Z. E. Melton, W. E. Beaton, W. D. Rhodes, I. J. Bear, I. J. Sternberger, R. C. Orrell, Melvin Horne and R. A. Burnett. The evidence in the case is being taken in shorthand by Miss Stella Shrier, court stenographer, and an appeal will likely be taken to the Supreme Court in any event. The plaintiff yesterday introduced R. M. Murray, father of the child; Dr. L. H. Love, the attending physician at the time of the alleged wrongful removal of the patient; Dr. T. S. Burbank, as a medical expert, and Mrs. R. M. Murray, mother of the plaintiff. Mrs. Murray had completed her testimony when court adjourned at 5:30 o'clock until 9:30 A. M. tomorrow. The defendant will also introduce expert medical testimony by Drs. Geo. G. Thomas, W. J. H. Bellamy and perhaps others. It is expected that the case will be completed to-morrow in time for a calling of the Penny damage suit, which if not reached some time Monday, will have to go over to the next term under the rule of the bar.

BILL IN EQUITY IS FILED.

Bondholder of Southern Saw Mill and Lumber Co., at Kingsdale, N. C., Asks for Removal of Receiver.

Messrs. Iredell Meares, of Wilmington, and R. E. Lee, of Lumberton, attorneys for Robert L. Forrest, of Philadelphia, in behalf of himself and others coming in and making themselves parties, have filed a bill in equity in the Circuit Court of the United States, in this city, against the Southern Saw Mill and Lumber Co., of Kingsdale, Robeson county, N. C., W. J. Edwards, receiver, The Union Trust Company and W. J. Edwards, asking the court (1) that a receiver may be immediately appointed for said company and that W. J. Edwards be removed and required to deliver over all properties, books and accounts which he may now have in his possession to said receiver. (2) For the appointment of a special master. (3) For an injunction, and such other orders as the complainants may be entitled to. (4) For an accounting by W. J. Edwards, receiver, and (5) for costs and such other relief as the complainant may be entitled to. The defendants are required to answer on the "return day" here the first Monday in December.

The Southern Saw Mill and Lumber Co. is situated on the line of the Carolina Northern Railroad, extending from Lumberton to Marion, S. C., and its affairs have been in the hands of Receiver W. J. Edwards since Jan. 1903. Robert L. Forrest, the "orator" or plaintiff in the present bill of equity is the owner of $24,000 of the $150,000 bonds issued by the company in June 1901 and holds in trust about $20,500 of bonds held by other persons. He is dissatisfied with the present receivership and prays the court for a removal of the present receiver and the appointment of another receiver and special master, an accounting by Mr. Edwards, etc., as indicated above. The bill filed by Mr. Meares and Mr. Lee, solicitors for the complainant, covers 22 printed pages and recites at length the career of the saw-mill company and makes many allegations as to the inefficiency of the present receivership. The litigation following the bill promises to be extended.

Winston's Appointment Cancelled.

The appointment of Hon. Francis D. Winston to speak in Wilmington on the night of Nov. 2nd has been dropped from the list given by Chairman Simmons to the candidate for Lieutenant Governor. He will, however, speak at Wallace on that day and pass through Wilmington at night on his way to fill several appointments in Robeson county.

BIG SOCIETY EVENT.

W. L. I. Dramatic Club Production at Academy on Evening of November 11th.

THE CAST OF CHARACTERS.

"Home Aint Nothin' Like This," Vehicle of Fun and Fancy—Rehearsals in Progress and a Great Performance is Assured—Notes.

Evidences continue to multiply that the Autumn society event extraordinary will be the presentation on the evening of November 11th, by the Wilmington Dramatic Club, of the sparkling farce comedy, "Home Aint Nothin' Like This," which had a most successful run a few years ago in Metropolitan centres north, and which was en tour simply because of the unusually large cast of all star performers and the resulting financial expenditure required for proper presentation on the road. The production will be under the direction of Wilmington's gifted young thespian, Mr. James H. Cowan, and that is a guarantee of its excellence. The costuming and staging will be elaborate and Manager E. A. Motts will leave nothing undone to secure a magnificent success of the event. The lines of the piece have fallen into the following capable hands:

THE CAST OF CHARACTERS.

Mr. Gilbert Pettibone, A peculiarly jealous man....Mr. James H. Cowan.
Rosabelle Pettibone, His second wife .....Miss Mildred Davis.
Emily Pettibone, Pettibone's daughter .....Miss Nellie McMillan.
Judson Langhorne, A young man of leisure and plenty of creditors.....Mr. Sam C. Potts, Jr.
Augustus McSnath, A friend of Pettibone's youth.....Mr. J. McRee Hatch.
Theodore Bender, Esq., A retired merchant with an eye for the fair sex .....Mr. Thos. H. Wright.
Josephine Bender, His wife, with an eye for Mr. Bender..Miss Belle Anderson.
Evangeline Bender, Their daughter .....Miss Tallulah deRosset.
Christopher Dabney, A broken-down music teacher, who is slightly nervous .....Mr. Wm. F. Robertson.
Thompson, A shoe dealer....Mr. L. Hall.
Bailiff, Merely a bailiff..Mr. T. E. Myers.
Fifi Oratanski, From the Opera Comique .....Miss Hattie Taylor.
Victor Smythe, In love with Emily, but doesn't know exactly how to go about it.....Mr. Jas. F. Post, Jr.
Alfred Hastings, Pettibone's nephew, who is in hard luck..Mr. Geo. P. James.
Tom McDow, His protege.....Mr. F. C. West.

Rehearsals of the comedy have been under way for several months and the director is well pleased with the progress of each and every member of the cast. The story of the play has to do with a very wealthy gentleman, Mr. Pettibone, who has a young and pretty wife of whom he is jealous because of the supposed attentions of a London swell. For this ill-concealed reason, Pettibone plans an extended tour abroad with Mrs. Pettibone and daughter, leaving the fashionable London home in the help of a dashing but rather unpecunious nephew, Alfred Hastings. His uncle gone, the later finds himself in need of funds. He conceives the idea of converting the large home into an apartment hotel, promising "all the comforts of home." The various applications for apartments, the personal of the applicants and their performances upon taking rooms at the "home," especially that of Fife Oratanski, from the Opera Comique, weave out an endless entanglement that keeps the audience in an uproar from start to finish. The final return of the wealthy gentleman, the discovery of his mistake as to the attentions of the London swell and the confidence happily restored in his young wife, round out an evening of mirth, laughter and good cheer. Announcement as to seats etc., will be made in one time.

Investigated Cutting Affair.

Mayor Springer in the police court yesterday investigated the cutting affair which occurred in the vicinity of Eighth and Castle streets almost simultaneously with the shooting of a negro in front of the Marine Hospital one night about three weeks ago, John Odom and Mark Johnson, both white, having been the victims of the cutting. Johnson was in a dangerous condition for ten days or more after the affair and was not until yesterday able to be at the trial. On the night of the cutting Odom and Johnson were both drinking and said that John Mitchell assaulted them. Later Johnson implicated a negro named Dave White and both of the colored men were promptly arrested. At the trial yesterday neither of the men would swear that either of the negroes cut them, consequently both were discharged.

Funeral This Morning.

The remains of young George T. McLaurin, who died at Ivanhoe, Tuesday, arrived last night over the A. & Y. railroad, accompanied by his aunt, Miss Katie B. McLaurin, Miss Maggie Corbett and Mr. John Beatty. The funeral will be held from the lodge at Oakdale cemetery at 10 o'clock this morning. Mr. Neill S. McLaurin, a brother of the deceased, came up from Florence, S. C., Friday night to attend the funeral.

—Mr. Chas. M. Cooke, Jr., returned yesterday afternoon from a visit to his parents in Louisburg.

— Mr. B. F. Penny arrived yesterday from Mullins, S. C., to attend court next week as the plaintiff in the damage suit against the W. C. & A. railroad.

—Mrs. J. H. Register and children, of Sampson county, returned home yesterday after a visit to Mrs. Register's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Boney.

— Yesterday afternoon's Fayetteville Observer: "Miss Martha Williams, of Wilmington, is here on a visit to Miss Liza Williams, on Gillespie street."

—Dr. N. A. Thompson, formerly of Whiteville, N. C., but now located at Lumberton, passed through the city yesterday on his way to Baltimore to take a post graduate course in medicine.

LOCAL MARKET AND SHIPPING.

Cotton Going Downward—Arrivals and Departures of Vessels from the Port.

Cotton receipts yesterday were 4,490 bales against only 1,475 same day la year. The New York spot market went off another 10 points yesterday, closing at 9.95.

British steamer "Armenia" which was weatherbound several days on the way up from Jacksonville, Fla., has arrived and begun receiving cargo of gum timber from the Acme Tea Chest Co., Mr. Will L. Miller, agent.

British steamer "Vera" cleared yesterday afternoon for Bremen, Germany, with another cargo of cotton. The cargo consists of 8,968 bales and is consigned by Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son. The departure of the "Vera" leaves only two cotton steamers in port, both of them large ones—the "Skerryvore," 2,200 tons, and the "Reigate," 2,504 tons. Each has a berth at the Champion Compress. However, several other cotton vessels are expected here early this week.

Schooner "Collins W. Walton," Captain Wm. H. Megee, Jr., 15 days out from Philadelphia, and after a very stormy passage, arrived yesterday at the Cape Fear Fisheries, Old Brunswick, with a cargo of coal. Some anxiety for the crew and vessel had been felt, but Captain Megee arrived in good shape with all well. The trip was the first for Captain Megee as master of a vessel. He is but 21 years old.

Williams & Jessup Bros.

Yesterday afternoon's Fayetteville Observer says: "After temporary embarassment, the store of Williams and Jessup Bros., which was closed Thursday, is again open to-day, and the business is going on as before under the same management. Their liabilities were not very heavy, and we learn that the claim of John E. Hearst & Co. had been satisfied some time ago, and that this firm's claim was not among those filed Thursday. The reopening of this store is very gratifying, and the young merchants have the best wishes of everyone."

Wedding at Red Springs.

Mrs. J. E. Matthews and children left yesterday and Dr. Matthews will leave to-day for Red Springs, N. C., to attend the marriage of Miss Isabel S. Black to Mr. William Gladstone Butler, formerly of Richmond, Va., but now of Red Springs, on Tuesday night, at 8:50 o'clock, in the Presbyterian church at Red Springs. Miss Black made her home in this city until a few years ago, and has many friends here who will be interested in the announcement of her forthcoming marriage.

S. A. L. Building for Sale.

Messrs. J. G. Wright & Son, the real estate agents, are authorized to offer for sale the handsome Seaboard Air Line Building on North Front street. They say the price is very low and advise prompt action upon the part of prospective purchasers. The site is an excellent one for a large commercial structure similar to that of the handsome Heyer building now going up at southwest corner of Front and Chesnut streets.

Rummage Sale.

Everything has been completed for the rummage sale to be given for the benefit of the Wilmington free library. The place secured is on Second street between Market and Princess street, the old auction rooms, and the sale will begin next Wednesday morning and continue through the following Monday. Wagons will call for all promised articles on Monday or, at the latest Tuesday. Everything given will be thankfully received and greatly appreciated.

Mr. Bain's Enterprise.

Charlotte Chronicle: "Several days ago the Chronicle stated that another cotton mill would be built in Greensboro, to be equipped with 10,000 or 15,000 spindles. It has been learned since that the promoter of this new enterprise is Mr. A. L. Bain, a well known and practical mill man, who has made his home in Greensboro since giving up the superintendency of the Delgado Mills in Wilmington."

CHICKENS COME HOME TO ROOST

The Roosevelt administration has all along been denying reports of serious friction with the new Republic of Panama which was born a year ago last November while United States marines were standing godfather. The Washington government would have us believe that everything was getting along swimmingly. Events of the past few days, however, show to the contrary.

The fact is that as soon as Roosevelt got his Panama ducks in a row last Winter he appointed a commission to take charge of the canal zone, govern the same and make the arrangements for and supervise the ultimate digging of the canal. The commission acted as if the Panama Republic had relinquished all sovereignty over the canal strip and put us in complete control. Acting upon that assumption, Roosevelt's commission established new ports in order to circumvent the ports controlled by Panama, established postoffices throughout the canal zone, and actually taxed for the benefit of the United States even the lands of the natives and other holders within the zone.

The Panama government was under the impression that her hastily rushed through treaty with us only guaranted us the canal rights and left the absolute sovereignty of the canal zone to Panama. Naturally, therefore, the Panamanos saw at once that the construction which the Roosevelt administration put upon the treaty, would pauperize the little Republic. The new ports established by the United States would destroy the business of the Panama ports, for while the United States would be collecting duties Panama's ports would have little or none to collect. The Panama government also contended that the establishment of postoffices by the United States would likewise deprive her of revenues from that sources, and the taking of the taxes from the people living in the zone would make pretty much a clean sweep of all that the canal zone was supposed to hold for Panama.

These, and other things, of course, have brought on contentions between the Panama Republic and the all-powerful canal commission. The contentions have reached the acute stage, and we have no doubt that the events of the past few days will cut quite a figure in our presidential campaign. It lugs in the Panama coupe of the administration last November, and already several Democratic campaigners have taken advantage of the opportunity to show up the hypocricy with which the administration acted in this matter.

Every man who is in the possession of all his faculties will have to agree that the Washington Post sizes up the matter correctly in this editorial comment on the recent developments:

So it appears at last that, notwithstanding the vehement denials by the administration through its representatives, there has been very serious friction between our government and that of Panama. It appears, moreover, that the misunderstanding must have reached a particularly acute stage to call for the appointment of a mission to the isthmus headed by the Secretary of War, and including committees of both Houses of Congress. Rumors to this effect were rife only a few weeks ago. High officials of the Panama government openly declared that the new republic had been misled by false promises, and although these statements were promptly and emphatically challenged in Washington, their authors did not retract or in any way modify them. Now, there is no further attempt to disguise the existence of a bitter clash, and one may readily imagine its importance by considering the nature of the remedy the President has applied. It is only too evident that the situation is critical, indeed.

For our part, we have always thought that the establishment of there public of Panama was much too sudden to be legitimate, and far too fruitful of coincidences to leave the United States free of the suspicion of complicity. And it was most unpleasantly significant that our forces were on hand when the so called declaration of independence was proclaimed—on hand and under orders to permit no "interference" by Colombia No one can explain, upon any theory involving our innocence in the premises, the facts that the alleged "revolution" occurred on the night of November 3, 1903, and that the new republic was "recognized" on the 6th, at a time when the government was represented by a self-appointed junta, composed of three persons, and when there was not the slightest visible evidence of popular support or even popular knowledge of the pretended upheaval. The patriot fathers, in fact, were so poverty stricken in the matter of material that the junta, pressed for time, had to send to ashington as Panama's diplomatic representative a gentleman who was neither a native nor a citizen—in a word, M. Bunau-Varilla, a worthy French gentleman, whose only interest in the affair lay with the sale of the French company's rights, properties, junk, prospects, &c., to the United States.

Just here, we fancy, the core of Panama's discontent will be discovered, for M. Bunau-Varilla, hastening fondly to Washington—he reached here within ten days after the "revolution"—and finding a "treaty" already cut and dried, so expedited the formalities that the document was solemnly signed only two or three hours before the arrival of a genuine Panama committee which had been hurried hither to see to its proper and satisfactory formulation. This, in fact, is the genesis of the Panama complaint. Messrs. Boyd, Amador, and Arosemena were duly authorized to look after the interests of their fellow citizens, but M. Bunau-Varilla saw to it that a treaty which met the views of the United States government and the French company was finally executed before they could get here to interpose a protest or offer a suggestion. It will transpire, we think, that this treaty constitutes the grievance of real moment. Dr. Morales and Senor Obaldia both insist that it is not what the Panamanos had been promised or led to expect, and it is quite plain that the ill feeling springs from M. Bunau-Varilla's lightning-like diplomacy.

Of course, it is a mere incident in one sense, for the whole performance was so grotesque and so devoid of every quality of legitimacy it would be unreasonable to expect a single dignified feature at any stage of the transaction. To compress the obvious comment into an aphorism, the episode would make a comic opera if it could be rescued from the realm of tragedy.

The STAR's telegraphic dispatches yesterday brought news of a reported conflict between United States marines and about two hundred armed men, either Colombians or Panamanos, who disapprove of the course of the government of the little Republic. A skirmish in which several were killed, is reported.

That the Washington government anticipates trouble, it is only necessary to refer to the fact that additional marines have been ordered to Panama by the War Department at Washington. It is stated that they go to "relieve" the marines already there, but most likely they go to reinforce those there. At any rate they are needed in Panama and will be rushed out at once. A press dispatch from Panama says:

"The news from Washington that Secretary of War Taft is to come to the isthmus next month, accompanied by Minister Obaldia and William Nelson Cromwell, counsel of the Panama Canal Company, to arrange the matters in controversy between the United States government and Panama, and the declarations of President Roosevelt on the subject are received with satisfaction in all circles. President Amador is in receipt of messages of congratulation from all parts of the republic."

"Kuropat-kin," says an exchange. Well, if he kin, why don't he keep on going?

The best disinfectant of all is sunlight. It destroys by its very brightness all sorts of germs and at the same time helps the growth of plants and animal life. Doubtless all have noticed that mould grows during the night and in dark, damp cellars. Bright sunlight quickly destroys germs, mould or other organisms. That is why it is best to let the sunlight into your houses for its purifying influence.

At the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. Pierce, chief consulting surgeon, started experiments, some three years ago, with the Finsen light in conjunction with the X-ray in the treatment of diseases. He got excellent results therefrom, and was among the first to adapt this remarkable cure to many cases which it was formerly supposed must of necessity be treated by the knife.

Not only is Dr. R. V. Pierce notable for his surgical achievements at his hospital in Buffalo, but nearly a third of a century ago he discovered certain roots and herbs which were nature's remedies, and succeeded in putting them up in a form that would be easily procured and readily to use. This he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It maintains the patient's nutrition by enabling him to eat, retain, digest and assimilate nutritious food. It overcomes gastric irritability and symptoms of indigestion, and in this way fever, nightsweats, headaches, etc., are done away with. It fortifies the body against the germs of consumption, grip and malaria, it builds up the tissues and puts on healthy flesh.

Those desiring to know something about the body in health and disease, also medicine and surgery, without technicalities, should read the "Common Sense Medical Adviser," which can be had for 31 cents in one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound book. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

CURRENT COMMENT.

— "Withdrawal of the United States postoffices from the canal zone" is one of Panama's demands. Panama should learn that no matter how the Constitution may loiter, the postoffice always follows the flag.—Washington Post.

— If the people vote right the wild boar's head with a glass eye will come down from the White House wall and the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution will be hung up in its stead.—Houston Chronicle.

— The white wives of the Fort Mott (N. J.) garrison must wait until after election to learn whether the negro wife of a white soldier is their social equal, probably on the ground that the voting may change the complexion of the situation.—Baltimore Sun.

— Elihu Root declares that the country cannot tell what policies the Democrats, if victorious, will adopt, but he fails to add that the action of the Republicans will be governed only by Mr. Roosevelt's sweet will, and that the big trusts are assured and satisfied what that "will" is with regard to them.—Philadelphia Record.

— The Presbyterian Synod of South Carolina has voted in favor of the removal of the Theological Seminary to Atlanta and its consolidation with Clarksville University into a Presbyterian college. As to the latter institution the question as to its removal has been taken into the courts, and every legal effort will be made to prevent it. Should those efforts succeed the Atlanta plan would fail, without considering other conditions which might bring about the same result. Atlanta subscribed on paper $250,000, payable in a year. If the time limit does not interfere we imagine the church will want to see the cash before the consolidation is made, presuming that finally legal obstacles to moving Clarksville University are overcome.—Columbia Record.

TWINKLINGS.

— "What did your wife say when you came home last night?" "Say! do you think I can stand here all day repeating it?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

— Dick—Do you know that you are taller in the morning than you are at night? Slick—Well, I know that I am "shorter" at night.—Detroit Free Press.

— Brown: I was shaved by a drunken barber the other day and he wanted to charge me double price. Green: How was that? Brown: He thought he had shaved two men.—Chicago News.

— Reporter: Then you think the national prosperity has touched the high water mark? Financier: Well, perhaps not. Still, I wouldn't advise any more water for the present.—Town Topics.

— "The cable dispatches say that the Boy of Tunis went to Paris and was filled with enthusiasm." "I obtained the same result," replied Soakley, "by just spending a few hours downtown."—Chicago Journal.

— "The man advertised that for 50 cents he would forward a little device that would enable housekeepers to save at least half their coal bills. So I sent the 50 cents." "And did you get it?" "Yes. It was a bill file."—Philadelphia Press.

— "A South American country has its advantages," said the lady with the gold lornette. "But there are so many political disturbances." "Yes. Think of the opportunities for organizing daughters of the revolution."—Chicago Journal.

— A lady was looking for her husband and inquired anxiously of a housemaid, "Do you happen to know anything of your master's whereabouts?" "I'm not sure, ma'am," replied the careful domestic, "but I think they are in the wash."—Chicago Journal.

Saves Two from Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Y.; "but, when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and to-day she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Infallible for Coughs and Colds. 50c and $1.00 bottles guaranteed by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist. Trial bottles free.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, October 22.—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of two to four points. This was rather better than expected on the cables and good weather. There was a fair demand from the covering of week end shorts rather than as a result of revived bull speculation and immediately following the call prices ruled pretty steady fluctuating close to the initial figures. New Orleans and Philadelphia seemed to be selling here, while lower Wall street and some of the professional bear interests seemed to be covering. Toward the end of the first hour the market was less active and pretty steady in tone with prices at practically the opening figure.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Cotton was quiet at 9.95c, net receipts — bales; gross receipts 9,083 bales; stock 69,101 bales.

Spot cotton closed quiet at ten points decline; middling uplands 9.95c; middling gulf 10.30c; sales — bales.

Watch Your KIDNEYS!
The Slightest Derangement of these important organs should be Promptly heeded, for no Disease is more dangerous.
Deadly diabetes, gravel or stone in the bladder, uremic poisoning, and other fatal forms of Kidney Diseases always begin in a mild form. There is little harm at first, and with proper treatment all irregularites can be corrected, but the slight symptoms are often overlooked and before the victim can realize it, a fully developed and dangerous stage is reached.
A thoroughly reliable and time-tested remedy for all diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys is STUARTS GIN AND BUCHU.
For thirty years this remedy has been in general use, and has made some noteworthy cures of cases that had reached a dangerous stage. It promptly reaches the cause of the disease, dissolving and expelling from the system all poisonous matter, and restores the bladder and kidneys to their normal healthy condition.
YOU CAN TEST IT FREE.
Stuart's Gin and Buchu can be obtained at all drug stores, but if you desire to test the remedy, send us your name and address and a trial sample will be sent you absolutely free. Do not delay or neglect this warning which nature is giving in the form of pains in the back, dizziness, irregularities in the urine, etc., but write for a sample to-day. SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Oxford Ledger: Mr. S. H. Satterwhite, one of the champion tobacco growers of the Creedmoor section, was on the Oxford market Tuesday and sold a load of tobacco at the Banner Warehouse. He made the boys go down in their pockets and captured the following splendid prices: $45, 25, 23½ 15, 16½, 10½, 13¾, 12, 10½ and 7.30.

— Raleigh Times: It's saying a good deal when the Republicans declare the Democrats unfit to rule the country, when the truth is, not enough white men have voted the Republican ticket any one year in the last forty to elect a Republican President. If Mr. Roosevelt is elected this year it must be done by the negroes in Ohio, Indiana, New Jersey, West Virginia and Maryland. If the negro vote in those States were deducted Mr. Parker would be elected without a doubt.

— Winston Salem-Sentinel: There can be no question of the fact that the Republicans of Forsyth county are making a desperate effort to elect at least one or two of their candidates at the approaching election. Realizing that there is no hope for their ticket as a whole, they are concentrating their efforts with a view to putting their strongest candidates in office and are making a frantic attempt to gain votes for those of their men who are known especially as "good fellows." It is needless to say that such a scheme will not succeed.

—The surveyor of construction of the Etowah cotton mills has arrived at Greensboro from South Carolina, and is busy collecting a force of workmen to begin at once the construction of the mill building. The Thomas Lumber Co., of Greensboro, on Friday morning signed a contract to furnish 1,197,000 feet of lumber, to be delivered, two car loads a day, until all is furnished. The brick have already been made. The contractors agree to have the mill building complete by February 1st, 1905, and are to be paid the sum of $250,000. The equipment of the mill and construction of the necessary residences for employes, will take another quarter of a million dollars.

— On Friday the Hon. R. B. Glenn made a strong campaign speech to 400 citizens at Jacksonville, Onslow county. As the speaker, with his strong and convincing power, explained fully the tariff question, proving the Republicans responsible for the superfluous high tax on the necessaries of life, while it was low on luxuries, he was greeted by loud and frequent applause. His description of the kind of protection he believed in was that while treating capital fairly he would see to it as governor that the smallest industry and humblest citizen should have protection. He also spoke strongly on the other issues. On Friday night he made a powerful speech at Kinston.

— Oxford Ledger: There has nothing ever been seen in this section like the ginning outfit of the Parham Ginning Co. located in Oxford. It is a model of ingenuity and rapidity, and in every particular a modern ginning plant, with pneumatic elevators, seed carriers, condensers, a revolving twin press and steam power, having a capacity of 25 or 30 bales a day. After unloading the seed cotton the driver clucks his team a few feet further ahead and catches the load of seed, a few feet further and the finished bale drops into the wagon. A few days ago a farmer brought a load of cotton to the gin and in just 28 minutes from the time he arrived a 500 pound bale dropped into his wagon.

— Scotland Neck Commonwealth: Mr. W. L. Stallings, one of the prosperous farmers of Edgecomb county, says he thinks farmers have made a mistake in paying so much for picking cotton, and that they have shown themselves too anxious for pickers. They have sent wagons to haul pickers to and from the cotton fields and have somewhat spoiled the laborers. Mr. Stallings said he had plenty of cotton to be picked and if the hands will come to the fields he will be glad to pay them for their work, but otherwise they can let it alone. Dr. K. Leggett at Hobgood is interested in farming besides attending to his large practice. He says it is next to impossible to get hands to pick cotton. A large part of his cotton crop was still untouched last week.

—Dr. J. A. McKelway has instructed his attorneys in Charlotte to bring suit for damages against The Observer Publishing Company unless ample apology is made for an article that appeared in the Charlotte Observer several days ago concerning charges preferred against McKelway. It seems that the trouble is all with the Observer's Pineville correspondent who, in reporting the proceedings of Mecklenburg Presbytery said "Serious charges" had been brought against Dr. McKelway, when in really they were not serious and were brought by Dr. Dubose, one of the foreign missionary secretaries who had seen fit to disagree with Dr. McKelway on account of a certain editorial published in the Presbyterian Standard of which Dr. McKelway is Editor. The correspondent used the term "serious charges" not knowing the real ministerial import of such terms Mr. J. P. Caldwell, editor of the Observer has received a message from Dr. McKelway dated New York stating that unless ample correction and retraction was made he had notified his Charlotte attorneys to bring suit for libel. As to the position the Observer will take in the matter, Mr. Caldwell says his paper will stand pat and Dr. McKelway may crack his whip.

Testimony of a Minister.

Rev. Jno. S. Cox, of Wake, Ark., writes: "For twelve years I suffered from yellow jaundice. I consulted a number of physicians and tried all sorts of medicines, but got no relief. Then I began the use of Electric Bitters, and feel that I am now cured of a disease that had me in its grasp for twelve years." If you want a reliable medicine for Liver and Kidney trouble, stomach disorder or general debility, get Electric Bitters. It is guaranteed by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist. Only 50c. †

THE REPUBLICAN TARIFF POLICY

Handicaps Americans and Favors Foreigners.

Aside from the gross injustice of which manufacturers are guilty when they utilize their protection to compel home consumers to pay more than a fair price for goods and more than foreigners are regularly paying; aside, also, from the base ingratitude of the trusts which smite the hand that feeds them, as they do when they take the protection bonus from the American people and then charge them higher prices for goods than they charge foreigners, there is a sound business reason why this practice should be discouraged rather than encouraged by tariff legislation. These reasons hold good even if the generally accepted theories of protection be true.

It is a bad economic policy for a nation so to legislate that its own manufacturers and workers must pay more for materials and goods than is paid by foreigners for these same materials and goods.

1. Such a policy handicaps home manufacturers and producers and gives their foreign competitors a great advantage, not only in foreign markets, but often in home markets, even when tariff duties are fairly high.

2. Instead of encouraging and building up home industries, such a policy discourages and drags them down by enabling goods to be manufactured more cheaply abroad; foreign manufacturers, to whom our trusts sell unfinished goods at lower prices than our own manufacturers can obtain the same goods at, are naturally, because of their cheaper materials, able to undersell American manufacturers.

3. Such a policy tends strongly to induce manufacturers, who might otherwise do an extensive export business, to establish branch factories in foreign countries, where they can manufacture more cheaply; where they can, in fact, get more benefits from "protection" than they get at home. That hundreds of branch factories are being established abroad for this reason is certain. Numerous articles and editorials have appeared on this subject in the trade and commercial papers, during the last three or four years. A notable article appeared in the Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science in January, 1904. It was written by Mr. S. N. D. North, Director of the Census. It tells of scores of big manufacturing plants that have recently established branch factories in foreign countries.

4. Such a policy leads to retaliatory tariffs on the part of foreign countries which wish to save their industries from some of the evils of what is called the "dumping" process. These high tariffs tend to keep our products out of foreign markets and also encourage the establishment of branch factories abroad.

CONVICT MADE GOODS.

Prison Made Goods to be Marked for Identification.

In an opinion handed down in the case of the People vs. Hawkins, Judge Alton B. Parker, while presiding over the New York Court of Appeals, passed upon the question of convict made goods. He said:

"It is now too late to consider the subject generally from the point of view of the political economist, for the people, in whom reside all power, have set at rest that question so far as this State is concerned. This statute neither prohibits nor attempts to prohibit other States, or the citizens of other States, from putting prison made goods upon our markets; nor does it prohibit our own citizens from buying or selling them; if it did, then, concededly, the statute would be in violation of the commerce clause of the Federal Constitution and void; it simply requires that prison made merchandise shall be so branded that our citizens shall know where the goods they are buying were made.

"This they have a right to know, for they voted to burden themselves with additional taxation rather than longer to permit a competition which they regarded as a public wrong, and they are, therefore, entitled to such legislation as will permit them to know the truth in regard to articles offered them for sale, in order that they may not, through lack of information, have forced upon them that which they would not buy advisedly. The commerce clause of the Federal Constitution does not stand in the way of their having such information, inasmuch as the Constitution of this State establishes a public policy in the working out of which the Legislature may go to this extent at least under the police power of the State."

PRAISE FROM THE ENEMY.

Paying his respects to Judge Parker, J. Sloat Fassett, as temporary chairman of the Republican New York State convention, at Saratoga, said:

"Of the Democratic candidate I have only the kindest words to say personally. He is a high type of man, with a clean personal and official record."

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. WINTER'S APPROACH

A day of sunshine now and then, but these frosty mornings admonish us that sable Winter is almost here. That suggests the comforts and satisfaction of one of our modern heaters. We have them this year of every shape and kind—just the one to suit. Or, perhaps, it's a cooking stove or range. We have those too, And the point we are making for them all is that they furnish an even maximum of heat with the greatest economy of fuel.

We are yours just now for stoves and ranges, but all the time for hardware and agricultural implements. Let us serve you.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 23.

JURY NOT YET COMPLETE.

Another Venire Ordered in the McCue Murder Trial at Charlottesville, Va. Adjourned Until Monday.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., Oct. 23.—The Corporation Court room was crowded to-day when the trial of J. Samuel McCue, charged with the murder of his wife, was resumed. City Sergeant Rogers brought into court forty men who were summoned in Fredericksburg as a venire and the work of completing the jury was begun. Only three of the Fredericksburg venire were accepted as qualified. Two more are needed to complete the panel of sixteen from which the jury finally is to be drawn, as R. E. L. Hargraves, previously qualified, was excused on account of sickness. The court accordingly has ordered City Sergeant Rogers to secure another venire.

The failure to secure a jury to-day was unexpected. A total of 189 veniremen have been examined so far. Information as to the point from which the new venire is to be drawn and the number is withheld.

Of those examined to-day four were opposed to capital punishment and seven would not convict on circumstantial evidence, but the majority had formed opinions which testimony could not remove. Those who have been accepted on the panel are in charge of deputies. One of the counsel for the defence said just before court adjourned that it had been reported to him that a remark had been dropped during the recess intended to be heard by those who have qualified. Judge Morris promptly stated that if knowledge of any such attempt should be brought to him he would deal harshly with the person guilty of the offence. The men who qualified to-day are S. B. Quinn, Nelson Decker and Samuel Beale. Court adjourned until 12:30 P. M. Monday.

Wm. J. Bryan Addressed a Large Political Meeting at Charlestown.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLESTOWN, W. VA., Oct 23.—An ovation was tendered William J. Bryan here to-night. Many people came on special trains from all parts of the Kanawha and adjoining counties, making one of the largest political meetings ever held in this city. Bryan was escorted to the speakers' stand by the Cornwell Club, an organization of 500 young men arrayed in white uniforms. He spoke for nearly two hours and in the course of his address touched nearly every issue of the national campaign. Colonel Bryan left to-night for Wheeling.

FIRE AT COLUMBIA, S. C.

The State Newspaper Office Damaged. Loss About $8,000—Insurance.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 23.—At 11:30 o'clock last night fire was discovered in the basement of the "State" newspaper building. Quickly the entire building was filled with smoke and all of the employes were forced to quit work. In the basement was stored about $8,000 worth of paper, which was damaged by fire and smoke. Furniture and office fixtures were damaged to the extent of about $500. The total loss is about $8,000, on which there is $2,000 insurance. The building and plant were insured for $40,000. Work was resumed about 1 o'clock this morning and the paper will appear as usual.

GEORGIA HOMICIDE.

Mayor of the Town of Lovett Shot and Killed a White Man.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

DUBLIN, GA., Oct. 22.—L. G. Barron, white, was shot and killed this afternoon at Lovett, Laurens county, Georgia, by N. A. Thompson, mayor of that town. It is said that Barron had been threatening all the year to kill Thompson and attempted to draw a pistol when he was shot by Thompson. Yesterday, it is said, Barron was at Lovett very disorderly, the killing to-day growing out of that affair. Thompson was formerly connected with the Central and Wrightsville and the Tennille railroads and stands well with those who know him. Full particulars of the killing are not known.

DYNAMITE BOMB.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

BARCELONA, Oct, 20.—What is believed to have been an attempt upon the life of Minister of Agriculture and Commerce Salazar, occurred to-day. A dynamite bomb was exploded in the street while crowds were welcoming the minister who had come here to preside at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. No one was injured, but the buildings in the vicinity of the scene of the explosion were damaged and the crowds were thrown into a panic. Several arrests were made.

At Augusta, Ga., last night, a drunken negro named John Job shot and killed another negro and wounded the brakeman on the outgoing Southern railway train for Columbia, S. C. The body of the dead negro was put off at Graniteville, S. C., where Job was placed under arrest.

HOSTILE ARMIES STILL INACTIVE.

Indications of an Early Renewal of Hostilities With the Russians Taking Offensive.

ENORMOUS RUSSIAN LOSSES.

Estimates Range from 45,000 to 60,000 Killed and Wounded--Russians Massing Heavy Force Against Right Army of the Japanese.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

A review of the ten days fighting between the Japanese and Russians south of Mukden shows immense losses to both forces but a decisive victory for neither. The opposing armies are still facing each other, though a distance of several miles lies between them. Offensive operations on the part of the Russians are reported to have been made ten miles from Mukden and attacks are of frequent occurrence along the entire line. No really important aggressive movements, however, are announced. A very heavy engagement is considered certain to occur before many days to the southward of Mukden as a result of the concentration in that vicinity of immense bodies of the opposing forces. The weather has become very much colder and great suffering among the soldiers is reported.

Russian Losses 60,000.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The Japanese legation to-day received the following cablegram from Tokio:

"Marshal Oyama reports that the investigation completed after October 22d regarding the Russian losses at the battle of Shakhe shows five hundred prisoners and 10,550 dead bodies. The trophies of the battle are 35 guns, 6,920 shells, 5,574 rifles, 78,000 ammunition, etc. The dead of the enemy were all buried with military honors. The Russian total casualties are estimated at 60,000. Further investigation is still proceeding."

TOKIO, Oct. 22, 4 P. M.—A telegram received from Manchurian headquarters says:

"On October 21st there was no change reported in the front of all our armies.

"Further investigation shows the number of guns captured by our left army to have been forty-three, the left column taking taking twenty-seven and the right column sixteen. The wagons, munitions, etc., which have been captured have not yet been counted.

"Scouts dispatched from the left army on the night of October 20th discovered the corpses of 200 dead Russians west of Chang Liang Pan."

Both Armies Inactive.

MUKDEN, October 23.—Both armies remain practically inactive. The Russians have re-occupied Tantzlaputzy. The Japanese hold a position on high ground sloping down to the Shakhe river. There is continual outpost fighting and sniping and the batteries occasionally engage in a duel westward. General Mistchengo fought a brisk engagement October 20th. He reports progress and the capture of guns.

The two armies are receiving fresh supplies of ammunition. There is an indication of an early renewal of hostilities with the Russians taking the offensive. The weather is cold.

A rough estimate of the Russian losses during the recent batile places it at 45,000, of which 10,000 were killed.

The correspondent of the Associated Press who filed this dispatch was attacked by Chinese bandits while riding to rejoin his corps.

Russian Movements.

TOKIO, Oct. 22, 9 A. M.—The armies of Oyama and Kuropatkin continue to confront each other, but neither has yet assumed the aggressive.

According to a report from the Japanese Manchurian headquarters, telegraphed yesterday, it is reported that the Russians are massing a heavy force against the right army, but the purpose of this force is not indicated. The report says:

"In the direction of our right army two hundred of the enemy's cavalry crossed the Taliss river. They seem to have advanced to the westward. Two battalions of Russian cavalry are posted in the neighborhood of Kaokuanchal, and it is reported that 20,000 Russians are assembling in the vicinity of Kaotai pass.

"In the direction of the center and left armies the enemy occasionally sends an artillery fire and also fifteen centimetre mortars.

"At 5 o'clock in the afternoon of October 20th the enemy posted in the neighborhood of Sufangtai began shelling the Shakhe railway station.

"We captured 120 rifles and other munitions near Chang Liang Pao on the night of October 20th."

Battle Impending.

MUKDEN, October 23.—Field Marshal Oyama's counter offensive was definitely checked with the loss of men, guns and munitions.

General Kuropatkin's army extends along a line running over twelve and a half miles south of Mukden and is supported by strong fortifications on the Hun river. The present calm is enforced by the exhaustion of the armies on both sides, which lost in killed and wounded 80,000 men during the ten days fighting.

There is every indication that the battle will be resumed soon and that a decisive result will be achieved.

Situation at Port Arthur.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 23.—The telegram received by the family of Naval Architect Ksuteinikoff, now at Port Arthur, dated October 14th and sent by way of Che Foo, says:

"All well. Do not be disheartened. We are working on a Sebastopol."

The Associated Press learns that the Baltic fleet will proceed to the Far East at a low economical speed. There is no intention to have the fleet arrive there until February. The admiralty expects the garrison of Port Arthur to hold out until the fleet arrives. According to calculations if the garrison holds out another six weeks the fierce northeast gales which then begin will sweep the Yellow sea and constitute such danger to the Japanese warships that it will compel Admiral Togo to relax his blockade and the garrison will be able to secure a fresh supply of war munitions and food.

Kuropatkin's Report.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 23.—General Kuropatkin, in a dispatch to Emperor Nicholas, under date of October 21st, says:

"The Japanese retired from the field of Shakhe at nightfall October 20th. Thursday night passed quietly along the entire front."

Lieutenant General Sakahoriff, in a dispatch to the general staff, says:

"The retreat of the enemy from Shakhe was precipitate. We found in the village arms, munitions and provisions, which had been abandoned by the Japanese who also left behind in our old artillery position one cannon, timbers and a wagon full of instruments they had previously captured from us. Since the battle of October 16th we have captured altogether fourteen guns, including nine field pieces and five mountain guns, and have retaken one of our own lost guns.

"There was no fighting October 21st on the front of the Manchurian army."

Feeling in St. Petersburg.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 22, 11:05 P. M.—With the closing of the week the semi-panic produced by the heavy reverse sustained by General Kuropatkin's army last week has in a great measure disappeared, and there is a much more cheerful feeling pervading the war office. The general disaster which threatened to engulf the Manchurian army has been averted by the results of the ten days of almost continuous fighting, which to-night is practically a draw.

General Kuropatkin has again displayed consummate skill in preventing Field Marshal Oyama from reaping the fruits of victory. By withdrawing his shattered left wing under shelter of the right centre he succeeded in the gigantic task of taking 80,000 wounded off the field of battle, and more than this, according to all indications, he reorganizated and reformed his broken legions and again confronts the Japanese across the Shakhe river.

That Kuropatkin after losing close to 40,000 men was able to resume the offensive within a fortnight, constitutes a feat in military history. There was an impression early in the week that General Kuropatkin was concentrating his forces on his right and centre to avoid being driven off the line of the railroad, which might embarrass the retirement of his left, but now he has ample time to withdraw and the situation shows more determination than ever to secure strong advanced positions across the Shakhe. It is known that the left has actually pushed forward slightly, and the idea that the operations contemplate only rear guard actions seems negatived.

The general staff acts rather mysteriously. It simply attributes the cessation of operations to the natural exhaustion of both sides, but does not offer a clue to what is anticipated. It is significant, however, with what satisfaction the news of the capture of Shakhe town, at the intersection of the Shakhe river and the Mandarin road was received here. The taking of the town is considered an important strategical gain, placing General Kuropatkin in complete mastery of both sides of the Shakhe river between the railroads and the Mukden-Bentsiapuix roads, and assuring his communications against the possibilities of being cut off from the south. The only point on the left bank of the Shakhe river remaining in the hands of the Japanese is Samuning, within rifle shot of the railroad bridge. The bridge has presumably been confounded with the Shakhe station, five miles north. The report that the Russians had bombarded the station applies to the bridge, as the station is now beyond the sphere of their operations.

The heavy concentration of both Russians and Japanese between the Mandarin road and the railroad makes certain a tremendous collision at this point. The Associated Press learns that a portion of the Eighth army corps, which had reached Harbin, is hurrying southward.

The weather has again become clear but is very cold and the soldiers are reported to be suffering. A correspondent wires that twelve Japanese were found Friday night by a detachment of Cossacks. They were unconscious and half-frozen and were conveyed to the Russian camp where they were cared for.

DARING HOLD-UP.

Paymaster With $2,000 to Pay Employes Held Up by Highwaymen.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—A daring hold-up was attempted to-day in Astoria, Long Island. Samuel Durham, paymaster for the Astoria Light, Heat and Power Company, on his way to Riker's Beach with $2,000 to pay off the men employed there, was stopped by three highwaymen. The driver of the cab, Leroy Williams, was fired at by the robbers and dangerously wounded in the head and right arm. As soon as the attack began Durham jumped out of the cab and while he shouted for help boldly attacked the highwaymen, who on seeing other men approaching fled.

DEFAULTING CASHIER.

Lost About $35,000 in Chicago Bucket Shops and Gave Himself Up.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

TULLAHOMA, TENN., Oct. 23.—Allen Parker, defaulting cashier of the First National Bank, gave himself up today. He says he lost about $35,000 of the bank's money in Chicago bucket shops.

Parker, in addition to his banking duties, was deputy revenue collector for the Tullahoma district. He handled large sums of money, and an examiner is now going over the government books.

WARM WIRELETS

The schooner Willie Frank, Captain William L. Taylor, from Hampton, Va., for Bristol, R. I., with a cargo of lumber, went ashore yesterday of Little Egg Harbor, N. J.

The special board appointed to appraise the damages suffered by farmers near Manassas, Va., as a result of the manoeuvres, has completed its work, placing the total at $13,800 which is much less than was expected.

Fire broke out at midnight in the plant of the Mobile Lumber Company, three miles north of Mobile, Ala., threatening a quarter of a million loss in the destruction of the entire plant and stock of valuable hard wood lumber. It was reported that vessels moored at the mill were on fire.

PARKER'S ADDRESS; THE TARIFF ISSUE.

Six Distinct New York Delegations Received Yesterday at Rosemount by Parker.

TARIFF HISTORY REVIEWED.

Protected Trades—Infant Industry Argument—Pauper Labor—Benefits Exclusively in Hands of Capitalists—Wage Workers.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ESOPUS, N. Y., Oct. 22.—In his speech on the tariff issue, Judge Parker replied to remarks on that subject from men representing six distinct New York delegations which were received at Rosemount to-day. The day was not pleasant for an out-door political gathering. The air was chill and during the noon hour a cold rain began to fall.

In his speech replying to the delegations, Judge Parker reviewed at some length the tariff history of the country. Referring to Hamilton's report on manufactures, Judge Parker said:

"Hamilton said that his subject was to promote such manufactures 'as will tend to render the United States independent of foreign nations for military and other essential supplies.' Does anybody say that we have not reached that condition? Does anybody contend that the United States is still dependent on foreign nations for military and other essential supplies? Have we not frequently heard the note of alarm in Europe at the American invasion of the world's markets by our manufactured goods and especially those of iron and steel? Whether Hamilton's conceptions as to the best way to establish manufacturing industries were right or not, the object which he sought was long since gained, but the protective tariff is now vastly higher than any that he recommended or probably conceived of."

Judge Parker referred to the various tariffs of our early history, quoting Clay's remark that no one supposed the protective tariff was to be perpetual, upon which the judge commented thus:

"Mr. Clay here voiced the prevailing opinion of the country that the protected trades were no longer in a state of infancy. In fact the infant industry argument was superseded by the pauper labor argument. It was now contended for the first time that the tariff should be used to compensate the American producer for the higher wages that he had to pay as compared with his foreign competitors. As this argument has at times done great service, although now quite threadbare, I will dwell upon it a moment. Inatmuch as the law puts the tariff benefits exclusively in the hands of the capitalist and provides no means for giving the wage-workers his share, the system virtually says:

'Let the government take care of the rich and the rich will take care of the poor.' It is a short step then to say: 'Let the government take care of everybody,' a doctrine abhorred of all sound thinking men. But it is not true that greatly enlarged profits are on that account divided among the workingmen helping to produce them. The advance in wages is not due, as a rule, to a desire on the part of the employer to share profits with his workmen, but rather to the organization of the workmen."

Judge Parker referred to efforts by Republican statesmen to reduce the tariff in 1872, to Senator Sherman's opinion that the rates should be reduced and to a similar opinion by the tariff commission of 1882. This commission, said Judge Parker, reported a tariff bill making a reduction of 20 to 25 per cent. This bill was killed by the protected interests and a bill substituted increased duties to 45.86 per cent. The McKinley bill imposed duties averaging 48.71 per cent., and the present Dingley bill duties averaging 53 per cent. Judge Parker then said:

"To this condition we have come at last. Beginning with a tariff of 8½ per cent. in 1789, when many of our industries were really infants, we have by successive steps reached a scale of over 50 per cent., while the industries themselves have become colossal. Hamilton said that the iron and steel industry was already in a flourishing condition in his time. He was willing, nevertheless, to give 7½ per cent. for protection to steel. It now has $7.84 per ton on steel rails and the 'steel pool' sells them to Canadians at $19 per ton, but exacts $28 from American purchasers. It is enabled by the tariff to do this, for without the tariff it would be obliged to sell rails at home for the price at which they could be imported. American railways are thus compelled to pay $7.84 per ton more than a fair price—that is $7.84 more than the price at which somebody else would supply them. Why do the railways submit to such extortion? Why do they remain quiet? Why do they not establish rolling mills and make their own rails? Surely, the difference of $7.84 per ton, or 40 per cent., is a sufficient inducement to do so. I cannot answer this question, but if the leaders of the steel rail industry are also the controllers of those railways which are strong enough to defend themselves against extortion, the mystery is explained. In such a case the profits go into the pockets of the controllers of the railways in their capacity of steel producers, while the other shareholders of the railway and the general public pay the difference. The tariff lends itself to this sort of grab game and if the men who command large capital do not avail themselves of their opportunity they are not as shrewd as they are generally supposed to be.

"I cherish no grudge of men because they are rich, nor do I greatly blame them for taking the profits which unjust laws throw in their way, but I protest against the unjust laws. I protest against the men who make them, and who 'stand pat' whenever anybody proposes to repeal or modify them.

"The pauper labor argument of the tariff has for the most part dropped out of sight. Industries that compete with foreign markets no longer have the audacity to say that the difference of wages prevents them from competing on equal terms in the American market.

"In place of the pauper labor argument and the infant industry argument and all the other arguments heretofore noted, the home market argument has been substituted, and is now relied on so far as any arguments are used. This assumes that without the tariff and indeed without the 53 per cent. Dingley tariff we should have no home market for the farmers' products or for any other products. This is a bogy to frighten the children.

"A duty which does not raise the price of the article to the consumer fails of its object and is therefore needless for purposes of protection. If it does radically raise the price, then the consumer pays the difference, which, as Hamilton said, is the same thing as a bounty to the producer. These bounties are piling up mountain high. They are paid by the people, the beneficiaries having induced the government to shut out foreign competition for the trusts and combinations to stifle domestic competition. Not all the trusts and combines are founded on the tariff, but most of them are. Their continued existence and their mode of self-perpetuation lead to the belief that the country is no longer governed by principles but by interests. The most effective remedy that can be applied to the combinations or trusts which owe their existence to excessive tariff duties is to reduce the tariff rates, while the remedy which can be effectively applied as against the other combinations is to enforce the law. This remedy I pointed out in my response to the notification committee and also in my letter of acceptance. That the remedy can be made effective by an administration disposed to enforce the law cannot be doubted by any student of that branch of the law. It is not doubted by the trusts, who have good lawyers to advise them. It is not questioned by the trusts that a Democratic administration will enforce the law.

"It is true, as all know, that excessive tariff rates have caused serious injury to the great body of the people. It has increased the cost of living and added to the price of nearly everything that the people must buy. This is known of all men and they cry out against it. And their cry should be heeded, But it has been so long a part of the policy of the country that its reformation must be prudently undertaken so as to prevent an immediate revolution in existing conditions.

"I pointed out in my response to the notification committee how a gradual reduction of custom duties may be accomplished without disturbing business conditions, and I adhere to the method suggested. But the work should be undertaken at once in the interest of the whole people. And it can only be undertaken by the Democratic party. The Republican party will not attempt it. It only promises such a revision as the friends of the tariff wish. As they do not wish any revision downward there will be none in that direction while that party can prevent it. Any other revision will not relieve the masses. And it is to their relief that Congress and the President should hasten."

SIR THOMAS LIPTON

Entertained Officers and Men of the U. S. Cruiser Olympia in London.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Sir Thomas Lipton entertained about three hundred officers and men of the United States cruiser Olympia at the Crystal Palace to day. After a brief reception a which Sir Thomas shook hands with each of the guests, the men marched in to dinner. In front of each man was a presentation pipe, pouch and tobacco. Sir Thomas toasted the American navy and said he had good reason to know the merits of American seamanship and also of American generosity, "gauged by the number of lickings they have ladelled out to me." He expressed hope, however, that at no distant date he would take a Shamrock IV to America. Midshipman L. E. Breton, in charge of the party, proposed Sir Thomas Lipton's health, which the men drank to the accompaniment of rousing cheers, with a "tiger" for Shamrock IV. Former Lord Mayor Faudel-Philipps toasted Anglo-American unity. Many well known Americans, British subjects, were there.

FOR THE RUSSIAN NAVY.

Submarine Boats Built at Newport News Shipped to Hamburg.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The American will say to-morrow:

"The submarines for delivery to the Russian government, which had been sent so mysteriously to this harbor from the shipyards at Newport News, were shipped on the Hamburg-American Line steamer which sailed at 5 P. M. yesterday from Hoboken for Hamburg. At that point the submarines will be reshipped to St. Petersburg, where they will be put together at once by experts who have sailed on the same steamer. Within less than a month these two boats will be shipped over the St. Petersburg and Siberian railroad for Vladvostok.

"The sub-marines had been taken apart, being separated amidships, and the four sections were loaded on the main deck of the Belgravia. These submarines are part of a fleet of these boats to be built by the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company."

TOBACCO GROWERS.

Virginia and North Carolina Farmers Will Hold Crops for Higher Prices.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RICHMOND, VA., October 22.—The Interstate Tobacco Growers Protective Association, of Virginia and North Carolina, will publish Monday through the Southern Tobacconist and Modern Farmer the scale of prices for farmers, which was adopted at a meeting of the association sales-executive committee held a few days ago. There are now nearly 8,000 members of the interstate association and these farmers are pledged, it is said, to hold their crops for the prices agreed upon by the sales-executive committee. These prices are comparatively high.

REGISTRATION IN NEW YORK.

Each of the Boroughs of Greater New York Shows Substantial Increase.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—This year's total registration in Greater New York was 688,775, which exceeds by nearly 50,000 the record of 640,523 in 1900. Each of the boroughs showed a substantial increase over the registration of four years ago. In Manhattan and the Bronx the figures were 391,031 as against 366,991 in 1900.

Brooklyn gave 246,916 as against 230,363 in 1900; Queens, 35,631 as compared with 29,334, and Richmond 15,207 against 13,083.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE.

The Issue Still Unsettled in the Episcopal General Convention.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BOSTON, MASS., Oct. 23.—At the close of the fifteenth day of the Episcopal General Convention, the House of Bishops and the House of Deputies were still at variance on the question of marriage and divorce. The issue will be taken before the latter body next week for the third time during the convention, the bishops having declined to accept without amendment the compromise measure adopted by the deputies on Thursday.

AUTOMOBILE RACES.

International Cup Won by W. Gould Brokaw of New York City.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct 22.—In the automobile races which were decided at Brighton Beach race track to-day, the honors for the international cup, in which French, Italian and American cars were competing, went to the credit of W. Gould Brokaw, of this city, who raced a car under the guidance of L. G. Bernin. A. G. Vanderbilt's Italian car was second, and the American car, driven by Barney Oldfield, was third.

The diamond cup race, which was placed fourth on the programme, resulted in a very clean victory for W. Gould Brokaw, as his chauffer outgeneraled all his competitors on the first two turns and going wide over the circuit won easily by half a mile.

No phenomenal time was made in any of the races, the best record being that of Brokaw's machine on its second mile for the diamond cup, when it clipped one-fifth of a second off of a minute's time. C. D. Ridgway was thrown out of his car and slightly injured.
